

2021 Car Caravans & Rallies Against the U.S. Blockade on Cuba

Dear Canadian Network on Cuba (CNC) members

First of all, Happy New Year to everyone. I hope everyone is staying healthy with the escalation of the Covid-19 pandemic. As we return tomorrow, Sunday January 30th to Caravans and street protests in cities around Canada, we also look towards another year of struggle in defense of Cuba and our campaign against the unjust and immoral U.S. blockade on Cuba.

The highlight of last month, December 2021, were the very successful vigils organized by cities in Canada, the U.S., and worldwide. The vigils were part of an international day of action called by Carlos Lazo, who heads the Puentes de Amor (Bridges of Love) Cuba solidarity group the USA. Carlos, who initiated the Caravans for Cuba, went on a pilgrimage in Italy and the Vatican to bring the message of solidarity with the people of Cuba against the U.S. blockade that culminated on December 23rd at the Vatican.

In 2021 with the help of all of you, we organized the caravans and protest actions on the last Sunday of every month. In unity and with our commitment and consistency, we made Canada a better place to defend Cuba's right of self-determination and sovereignty and built opposition to the criminal, inhuman and illegal blockade on Cuba by the United States. Last year, these Caravans with our actions in Canada, the U.S., and worldwide became an international movement. Continuing to build this unity of Cubans, Cuba solidarity groups, and activists worldwide into 2022 is of utmost importance. We must continue to be vigilant against increased U.S. threats against Cuba.

Within the context of increased U.S. hostility toward Cuba, our solidarity with Cuba is more important now than ever. Let 2022 be a year to expand our solidarity and activities with Cuba in Canada, the U.S., and worldwide.

We know Vancouver, Calgary, Toronto, and Montreal will be on the streets January 29 and 30. Please continue to inform me of your activities and send photos, so we can reflect them on the CNC website and social media, and we will also pass them on to our cofighters internationally.

Below is the collection of last year's, 2021, Caravans and other activities on the last Sunday of each month in Canada, the U.S., and around the world. Also, here is a link to a very inspiring video made by People's Dispatch about Caravans around the world: <https://youtu.be/luWafQ-3S4A>

¡Cuba Si! ¡Bloqueo No!
